Several sizes to fit most saxophone necks and mouthpieces

FLAP-IT POUCH™—Offering easy storage for saxophone necks and mouthpieces!

The FLAP-IT POUCH™ from Neotech offers a new way to store saxophone necks and mouthpieces. For gig bags with limited storage space, the FLAP-IT POUCH™ is the perfect solution for storing necks, mouthpieces, ligatures, reeds and more—right in the bell of the instrument. No more worrying about items shifting around inside the case. These cushioned pouches offer ideal protection.

The FLAP-IT POUCH™ features a soft, durable neoprene construction to cushion delicate pieces, particularly when stored together. It has a tapered shape for maximum efficiency when storing necks and mouthpieces of various sizes. The flap cover utilizes a handy touch fastener closure to keep items safely inside while allowing instant access when needed.

The edges of the FLAP-IT POUCH™ are stitched with military-grade thread and an elasticized binding for durability and extra protection. After the gig is over, these pouches can be safely stored inside the bell of the instrument without fear of scratching or marring the finish. Each style is available in two sizes to fit a wide variety of instrument accessories.

The FLAP-IT POUCH™ is proudly made in the USA!
